TWO DIE IN FEARFUL AUTOMOBILE WRECK

C. F. BAKER J. C. WILSON PLEADS INDICTED GUILTY BY JURY

Defaulting Cashier of Crocker Bank Will Be Sentenced on April 21

Allowed Liberty on Bail That He May Wind Up Business Affairs

Prominent Stock Broker Connected by Federal Inquisitors With Baker Case

B. A. Wilbrand and P. Burk, Members of J. C. Wilson Co., Also Indicted

SAN FRANCISCO, April 12.—Charles F. Baker of Oakland, defaulting assistant cashier of the Crocker National Bank, pleaded guilty before United States District Judge Van Fleet today to the charges of embezzlement preferred against him by the Federal Grand Jury. He will be sentenced on April 21.

With the plea of guilty is the confession of the stealings from the Crocker National Bank of a sum of money estimated at between $100,000 and $205,000.

Through the indulgence of District Attorney John L. McNab the confessed embezzler is to be allowed his liberty on bail until he appears a week from next Monday for judgment.

BAKER HIDES FACE.

At the opening of the court hearing Baker sat beside his son, Roy, in the jury box. His attorney, Charles A. Shurtliff, was opposite across the courtroom. Baker appeared quite nervous. He held one hand before his face to shield himself from the gaze of the numerous spectators. Occasionally he spoke to his son.

OPERATIONS REVEALED.

Sometimes, it is alleged, $50,000 a day was won or lost by Baker in his operations. It was his custom, when he lost to use the name of Blake and to make out cashier's check in favor of Wilson for bonds alleged to have been purchased by the latter in behalf of the bank.

In connection with the covering up of these losses it is said Baker also slipped into the funds of Charles Crocker, which were under his control. It is claimed that Crocker, from year to year, never looked at his coupons and securities, so sure was his confidence in Baker.

The culpability of Wilson and Wilbrand is alleged in connection with the fact that when Baker won the firm was ordered to make out the check in his name, whereas when he lost "Blake" was held responsible and a roundabout way taken of reimbursing the broker. It is said also that it is the habit of the brokerage firms to look up their clients in the directories of Dunn and Bradstreet and that they could not but know that Baker was using funds other than his own.

According to the indictment and the evidence of witnesses, Baker was a weak vessel and was instructed and advised throughout by Burk.

The indictment of such prominent brokers as Wilson and Wilbrand was read almost immediately on the street and created a flurry. Bush street and Montgomery street were talking about it this afternoon and speculation was rife as to what would be the outcome.

DELAY WAS WANTED.

"Mr. Baker is ready to enter a plea if your honor please," he began. "He is anxious, however, that sentence be postponed, as he has not had time to arrange his business affairs.

He had hoped that the matter of sentence could be postponed, but as I understand your honor is going to Sacramento and will not be here next week the district attorney advises me that he wants Mr. Baker to plead today."

"Mr. Shurtliff is engaged with Mr. Baker in winding up his private affairs," added District Attorney McNab. "He has to settle the details of his property arrangements, and I have agreed that if a plea is entered today he may remain at liberty on bail until time for sentence."

ENTERS HIS PLEA.

Judge Van Fleet said that he would be on hand on April 21, and Baker was called for to enter his plea.

"You have heretofore been arraigned on a charge of embezzlement of the funds of the Crocker National Bank; what have you to say?"

"Guilty," said the defendant.

"This matter will be continued until April 21 for sentence," ordered the court, and Baker agreed, and with Roy Baker on one side and his counsel on the other walked from the courtroom and along the corridor to the elevator. His face was ashen and his mouth twitched as he passed out of the courtroom.

Manager Mitze's Finger Is Broken

SAN FRANCISCO, April 12.—An X-ray examination has disclosed the fact that Manager Mitze suffered a broken finger in yesterday's game and that the Oakland ball club will be without the active services of its manager for at least a month and possibly more. The second point of the index finger on Mitze's right hand was fractured by a foul.

According to the report, the relief train is bringing back 100 here. All doctors have been requested to be at the Union station when the train arrives. The trestle which went down is a temporary one and was being used for work trains only.

No lives, it is believed, were lost.

Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy

RESTORED HEALTH

Mr. Frank Brownell writes: "Nearly 18 months ago I commenced using Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy. I was troubled a great deal with my kidneys. My brother told me of a case where a neighbor had been given up to die, several doctors telling him his case was hopeless. After using five bottles of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy I felt well again. I knew of another cure since mine of a party who was in a very bad condition from kidney trouble but who was restored to good health by Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy."

—Frank Brownell, Brownell, Arlitz

Kidney disease is one of the most common ailments of Americans, yet comparatively few pay attention to the condition of health of their kidneys until the serious stages of the disease command attention through the misery and suffering that follow neglect.

Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy has done for thousands for the past 35 years what it did for Mr. Brownell and the others he mentions. It is nature's safe provision for mankind against kidney disease being a carefully prepared healing medical agent. It is pleasant to take, 50c and $1.00 sizes, sold everywhere by druggists. TWO ARE KILLED IN AUTO WRECK automobile, turned about, presented little for the repair man to work upon.

H. C. Herald and R. G. Eubank Jr., Meet Death in Crash.

The party had started from the Nebel store, where Eubank was accustomed to stop on his way home to purchase provisions. Hugh Jones left his motorcycle standing in front of the store, where it was found this morning. Just where the party went has not been learned, but it is believed they had been at various resorts about the city.

MOTHER AT BIER.

Refusing to believe that her son was dead, Mrs. J. W. White, of 2906 Grove street, mother of Harry C. Herald, knelt at the bedside of the youth at the Receiving hospital, holding the lifeless hand and praying for his restoration. She finally reconciled herself to the situation and bore up bravely.

"He was a brave boy, and always has been," said the mother. "He comes from good stock. He is the last of my sons. Already have lost six and their father. But such is fate."

Mrs. White is a Christian Scientist. Her mother is Mrs. W. J. Bonell, a well-known California artist, and noted for her beauty a number of years ago. J. W. White, stepfather of young Herald, is employed at the Broadway docks of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company. He was notified of the tragedy by his wife.

SURVIVED, BY FAMILY.

Herald is survived by a widow and a six-months-old babe. They did not learn of the accident until shortly before noon, Mrs. Herald having gone to visit her mother early this morning.

Another sad feature of the accident was the fact that Mrs. Eubank, wife of R. G. Eubank, had gone on a visit to her mother in San Jose. She took with her their two small children. Eubank was a member of Bay View Lodge, F. & A. M., and was employed as a salesman by the firm of Holbrook, Merrill & Sietzen.

The body of young Herald was later taken to the home of his mother in Grove street, where his grandmother has been lying critically ill for several months past.

TELLS OF CRASH.

J. H. Cordes, 3200 California street, Berkeley, was driving the cart which the autoists attempted to pass. He related the circumstances this morning as follows:

"I was going out San Pablo avenue and was between Jones and Twenty-second streets when I heard the machine coming behind me. There was plenty of room between my cart and the curb. At first I feared I was going to be run over. Before I had time to act the driver of the auto turned to my right from behind. The next instant there was a crash and two of the occupants of the machine were hurled into the street and on the sidewalk. I assisted them until the police arrived. One of the men—I believe it was Nebel—was semi-conscious. He complained of a pain in his head and leg. 'Where am I?' he queried.

TRAVEL AT HIGH RATE.

"As the machine struck the pole, the rear end skidded around and the hind wheel of the auto grazed my cart. The automobile was traveling at a high rate of speed, and I believe that when the driver turned out he lost control and was unable to right the car."

Two blocks away the autoists passed W. T. Trigg, of 3200 Ellis street, Berkeley, another newspaper driver. He witnessed the accident from that distance.

"I passed the machine at about Nineteenth street," said Trigg. "It was going as a mile-a-minute and careening from one side to the other in an unsteady course. I turned around to watch them, fearing that they would run down Cordes, whom I had passed a short while earlier. When they arrived opposite his cart I saw them turn to the right. The man was a terrific crash and a shower of sparks as the metal on the side of the car grazed the granite curb. I saw the men hurled into the air and hurried on to get assistance, as there were few about at that hour.

CAMINETTI IS FIERY.

"I don't care for the Supreme Court of California or what it may decide," shrieked Senator Caminetti of Alameda, with a voice that was cracked and husky from long stages of debate, "but I will uphold any franchise that is nothing more than a flimsy pretense to control the bodies of men."

The fiery senator from Alameda gave utterance to these words when he jumped to his feet during a joint hearing of the senate and assembly committees on commerce and navigation last night on the Vallejo Ferry Company's protest to the bill introduced by Senator Campbell of San Luis Obispo on behalf of the employees of Mare Island navy yard and accused J. J. Barrett, counsel for the ferry company with attempting to cloud the issue and mislead the legislators.

"I never thought I would live to see the day when such a valiant defender of the state's sovereignty would declare publicly that a franchise granted by the state is a flimsy pretense," said Barrett. "Not so!"

"My boy stayed at the store late last night and closed. Eubank usually stopped on his way home to purchase provisions and it is probable that they decided to take a ride. They always went together. When I arrived at the store this morning I found Herald's motorcycle standing in front. They had evidently intended to return early, but had not done so."

GEORGE UCHIDA BURIED QUIETLY BY FRIENDS

George Uchida, the Japanese musician, who murdered Miss Annie Pierce, of San Francisco, was buried yesterday morning at the cemetery of the Santa Maria Company. The amount involved was $14,000 of the funds of the institution, made defendant today in two suits to recover the money begun by the Santa Maria Company. The amounts involved are $7700 and $5812. During the hearing before Superior Judge Sturtevant, H. W. Coggins, secretary of the Santa Maria Company, testified. He declared that in the first action $5700 of the sum was made up in money paid to Hooper by the corporation and the balance consisted of notes. The money involved in the second suit were checks which, it is claimed, were not turned over to the bank by Hooper.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 12—Rupert T. The amounts involved are $7700 and $5812. During the hearing before Superior Judge Sturtevant, H. W. Coggins, secretary of the Santa Maria Company, testified. TYRRELL BRANDS FALSE CRITICISMS OF GORMAN

Alameda County Solon Issues Statement Replying to Attack

(Special Correspondence of THE TRIBUNE.)

SACRAMENTO, April 12.—Senator E. J. Tyrrell, chairman of the Alameda county legislative delegation, issued a statement last night in answer to charges called to his attention made before meeting of the Alameda County Civic Association in Oakland last Thursday night that the delegation was not properly representing the people and that it was impossible to get a hearing before it. The statement follows:

"In reference to the remarks of Charles F. Gorman of the Alameda County Civic Association regarding the Alameda county delegation, would say that his criticisms are absolutely false and unjust. Personally I have nothing but supreme contempt for this party and am not worrying about anything he may say about me."

"The Alameda county delegation considered the man proposition and as I remember Deputy District Attorney Clark advised us that the county government act was not the proper place to make provision for this feature of the assessor's work."

"In reference to the remarks of Charles F. Gorman that he run for office to give his popularity a test, I do not know how the county of Alameda and the state of California has run along so well for so many years without his valuable official services."

THREE MAKE CHARGES.

Charles F. Gorman, John Gelder, father of Assemblyman George Gelder, and John W. Phillips made the charges against the delegation. Gorman made a personal attack on Senator Tyrrell.

Gorman charged the delegation with costing the county a large sum of money by refusing to include in the county government act a provision authorizing the county assessor to have property valuation maps printed of all assessed property in the county.

Gelder said that any measures fathered by the civic association would be "ignored" by the delegation.

Phillips asserted that if the delegation did not protect the interests of the county better the civic association would enter politics and wage a bitter fight until it had what is right and best for Alameda county.

Gorman declared Senator Tyrrell, as chairman of the delegation, was directly responsible for the defeat of a measure that would bring hundreds of thousands of dollars into the county treasury.

ADJOURNMENT IS UP.

The adjournment sine die of the fortieth session of the California legislature has now been passed along to the ways and means committee of the assembly. The assembly resolution that was adopted early in the second half of the present session fixing the date of final adjournment at April 26, has been given stay of execution in the senate finance committee ever since its adoption by the lower house.

Senator Strobridge of Hayward, chairman of the finance committee, who has been sitting up night trying to figure out how to make about $17,000 cover appropriations asked of the senate for the next session, held the adjournment resolution in his committee until he had solved the problem.

Senator Strobridge is one of the strongest Progressives in the state. He is a staunch Johnson supporter and as an administration man is chairman of the important senate judiciary committee.

WOULD REORGANIZE ACT.

"I am surprised that there is a senator on the floor of this house, especially those who, through affliction of the eyes, are compelled to wear glasses, who would advocate giving itinerants the right to peddle eyeglasses at 25 cents a pair, made unscientifically," said Senator A. H. Breed of Oakland yesterday. In defense of his bill reorganizing the state board of optometry act. The measure was attacked from various quarters and was finally sent to the printer with an amendment tacked to it by Senator Butler of Los Angeles.

Senator Cartwright of Fresno opposed the attack upon the measure.

"I asked the question of whether or not the practice of optometry is a profession or a trade. He declared that it will go to a final split of the world and half night sessions."

Senator Cartwright is regarded as one of the strongest Progressives in the state. He is a staunch Johnson supporter and as an administration man is chairman of the important senate judiciary committee.

STORM IS BREWING.

Another echo of the brewing storm in the ranks of the Progressives of California was heard on the floor of the senate yesterday afternoon when just before adjournment Senator Lee C. Gates of Los Angeles, known as a Progressive stalwart, arose to a point of personal privilege and answered a telegram addressed to him from Fremont Older, editor of the San Francisco Bulletin. Older branded Gates as being false to the cause of progressivism by leading the debate against Senator Caminetti's anti-injunction bill and securing its defeat.

Those appearing for the ferry company were Barrett and W. H. Humphries, counsel, R. I. R. Aden, president, and J. Gorham Nevins, secretary.

Forbes H. Brown, president of the employee aquatic club, told the committee there were 114 members of the club and that all go to prison before they would submit to abolishing their ferry in accordance with the Supreme Court decision.

The other members of the employees' club at the hearing were the board of directors, composed of Grant M. Langford (chairman), A. Gilmore, O. G. Gordon, H. W. Smith, T. B. Frost. The counsel for the men are Charles S. H. Morrissey and P. B. Lynch.

BACCUS TELLS OF BUILDING STREETS

Candidate for Re-Election Addresses Meeting in Redmen's Hall of Elmhurst.

William J. Baccus, commissioner of streets and candidate for re-election, spoke last evening at Red Men's hall, Elmhurst, to a large audience. He told in detail of the work in his department and the plans outlined for the future.

Baccus said in part:

"Since I have assumed charge of the department of streets in July, 1911, I have made it my aim to give the people the best of service. I have been instrumental in making a large number of improvements and I have tried to do this work at the minimum of expense and at the same time not be niggardly with labor or material. The street system is an involved one and requires many details and I have made it a point to study them before recommending what was to be done."

MANY STREETS LAID.

"The result has been the laying of many miles of new streets, the construction of more than 100 miles of sewers, and a saving of many thousands of dollars in the sprinkling and cleaning of the streets. I realized from the first that the downtown and principal streets of the city had not been given proper attention. While work had been done it had been, to a certain extent, in a haphazard way. I outlined a plan of campaign calling for only standard asphalt for these chief streets and as a result permanent pavement has been laid in many of the downtown streets and the work is now being done in Grove street to the Berkeley line; in Telegraph avenue to Fifty-second street, and in Broadway to College avenue. Contracts have been let for similar work in Thirteenth street, from Clay street west, and Grand avenue, from Harrison to Court street.

OIL MACADAM USED.

"Oil macadam has been laid on several miles of streets, principally in the East Oakland district. I intend to have all the streets in this district improved with oil macadam by 1915. During my administration over 30 miles of oil macadam has been laid and over 10 miles of permanent pavement. We have also taken up the work of laying sidewalks and have constructed more than 50 miles during my term of office. As you know, the annexed district was badly in need of sewer outlets when I took office. More than 100 miles of sewers have been laid, most of them in the annexed district, and I was instrumental in securing an appropriation of $160,000 in the fiscal budget for 1912-13 for the work."

"By our campaign for the oiling and tarring of streets at a cost of $30,000 we have eliminated 10 street sprinklers, effecting a saving of $17,000. In 10 years' time we will have saved enough from the sprinkling of streets to pay for the oiling. This will give you an idea of what I have tried to do."

LADY SCOTT RETURNS: IS GREETED BY SON

LONDON, April 12.—Lady Scott, the widow of Captain Robert F. Scott, who lost his life on his return from the South Pole, arrived in London yesterday from New Zealand, whither she went in vain to meet her husband. Her 3-year-old son, Peter, stood on the doorstep of her home on Buckingham Palace road to greet her with a hug and kiss. He knew that "daddy" was not coming back with him, but no effort ever has been made to explain to him the whole story of his father's great career and courage.

BAKER NOT GUILTY.

The jury in the H. Baker case, being tried before Judge Donahue, after three and one-half hours' deliberation, returned a verdict last night of not guilty. The accusation was that Baker had obtained money from George Pierce, money lender and real estate broker, under false pretenses. The defense was conducted by Attorney T. L. Christian.

Moral Lesson of a Tragedy.

Without offering a suggestion of an apology for the professional slaver or an excuse for the mitigation of any penalty which law imposes on him for the infamous part in the propagation of vice and the traffic in woman's frailty, he is not altogether responsible for the debauchery, degradation and horrifying experiences associated with the social evil. A big share of the moral responsibility often comes direct to the domestic hearthstone. This fact is distinctly illustrated in the revelations which have followed the double tragedy which occurred in this city on Tuesday afternoon which have laid bare not only the unnatural relations existing between a white woman of the underworld and a young Japanese, but the low standard of family morality associated with her early life and the decadent and degrading parental influence exerted in the home circle. Letters found on her person addressed to her father indicate plainly that she had voluntarily entered on a career of vice and was not lured into it by any white slaver for the wages of sin, and that the character of the life she was leading was known to him and had not affected their confidential correspondence or the domestic ties. They indicate, also, that he belongs to a low type of his race whose moral sense is blunted and who has no sense of shame, for she foreshadows the tragedy in which she and her Japanese paramour were victims, and the causes of it, in one of the letters, written on the day of her tragic death: "Dear Pa—I came very near being killed last night, as a Jap was after me with a gun. I bulled him out of some money and promised to marry him. I was scared for a while."

No daughter who had been properly reared would have written such a letter, much less would it have been written to a parent who had any respect for morality or any concern for the moral status of his offspring.

The crusade against vice should direct a large share of its effort toward the elevation of morals in the home-circle; to the impressing upon parents the great responsibilities resting on them in the training of their children, so that they may walk through the rest of their lives in the way they should go. Where a high standard of morals is cultivated and maintained in the home, there is little inducement to the white slaver to enter or the tempter to wile with his glittering allurements.

Appreciation of a Long Pastorate.

It has been seldom the privilege of any Oakland pastor to care for the spiritual welfare of his flock for a period of twenty years and strengthen the bond of friendship between and broaden the sphere of his usefulness as a religious teacher and a higher appreciation of his worth as a valuable citizen in the community. But such has been the good fortune of Rabbi Friedlander and the First Hebrew Congregation, over which he presides. The bond of fellowship between the rabbi and the congregation is stronger by far today than it was ten years ago, when the congregation presented him with a splendid testimonial as a token of the high esteem and respect in which he was held in the synagogue and as a citizen.

Last Thursday evening marked the close of the second decade of Dr. Friedlander's pastorate and the board of directors and the officers of the congregation visited him in a body at his home in Piedmont to tender to him a warmer tribute than they paid him ten years ago of their continued appreciation of his faithful services as their spiritual leader. Dr. Friedlander has done splendid work for the congregation during the twenty years of its leadership and elevated it to the front rank of religious bodies of all denominations and creeds in the community. Meantime his activities for the civic welfare of Oakland have correspondingly increased and his worth as a citizen devoted to the best social and moral interests of the city is today higher than it ever has been.

The present municipal administration is harmonious, progressive, efficient and thoroughly honest. If the voters wish to keep it so, they will re-elect Commissioners Baccus and Anderson. They will wrong the city and themselves if they vote to make changes which are certain to be abortive and disappointing. Don't be misled by deceptive promises incapable of fulfillment.

Disestablishment in Wales.

A London established church organ declares that the bill for the disestablishment of the Church of England in Wales pending before Parliament is a menace to the integrity of the government and a blow against religious sentiment among the people. Both charges are utterly false. The Welsh people are the most loyal to the crown and most devoted religionists in the United Kingdom. But at least six-sevenths of the Welsh people are non-conformists—that is, in their form of worship, church government and some of the tenets of their religious faith they do not conform to the creed of the established Church of England and they strenuously, and very reasonably, object to being taxed to support a religious organization with which they are conscientiously not in sympathy and never attend its places of worship. Their own dissenting or non-conformist houses of worship have been erected and are being supported wholly by the voluntary contributions of communicants and other church attendants. They neither ask nor receive government aid. They, therefore, revolt against the compulsory collection of tithes to sustain the established church.

The Church of England was foisted on the Welsh people when Henry VIII cut loose from the Church of Rome and set himself up as the head of the State as the Defender of the Faith, thus uniting church and state in his own person. The principality was divided into bishoprics and church parishes and tithes were exacted from the landowners and householders for the support of the church thus artificially and arbitrarily established by the crown. The burden of the church tithes was shifted by the landowners to the shoulders of the peasantry and the manor.

The great bulk of the Welsh people are in their religious faith allied to the Calvinistic, Methodist, Independent, Baptist and Wesleyan denominations, whose churches dot the land and are regularly filled with pious worshipers. But every parish has its established church edifice and its curate and sexton to support. The "living" is in the hands of the lord of the manor, but the cost of the "living" comes out of the tithes arbitrarily collected from the non-conformist inhabitants who never enter the portals of the parish church for public worship. In hundreds of parishes in Wales, the attendance at the parish church for religious worship is usually limited to the curate and the sexton, with occasional visits from the neighboring gentry.

The principality of Wales is the only part of the United Kingdom outside of England where the established church has been forced on the people. The terms of union between England and Scotland protected the latter from it; so also did the act of union of England and Ireland protect Ireland against any interference with the religious faith of its people. No tithes for the support of the Church of England are imposed on the Roman Catholics of Ireland or on the Presbyterians of Scotland. The Welsh non-conformists ask, with good reason, why they must pay taxes to support an alien church.

Foreign Steamship Agents Inspecting Bay.

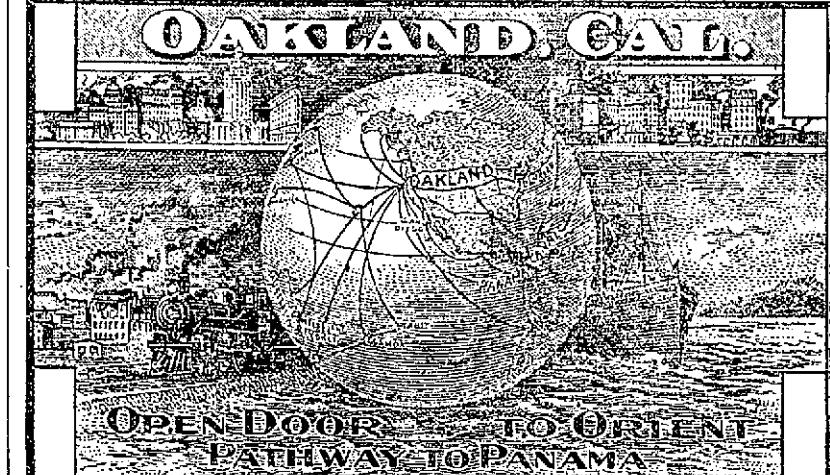

The latest foreign steamship company to send its agents to study the facilities that are being provided on the shores of San Francisco Bay for large ocean-going freight and passenger steamers in advance of the opening of the Panama Canal, is the Holland-American Steamship Company, one of the largest ocean carriers in the world. Two of the company's, directors are at present inspecting the waterfront improvements on both sides of the bay. The great corporation realizes the commercial importance of the canal opening and is planning to extend the activities of its ocean liners to the Pacific Coast. Its big freighters now trade with all the principal ports on the eastern side of the continent from Havana and Mexican ports to the mouth of the St. Lawrence.

The tour of inspection of these Dutch steamship directors is not limited to San Francisco. It includes an examination into the facilities which San Diego, Los Angeles, Portland and Seattle have for ships of the type which the company owns or which they are preparing to provide in time for the canal opening. Oakland's water-front improvements are not escaping their attention; nor do they fail to recognize the fact that this city is making greater progress than any other on the Pacific Coast in the development of docks and wharves and their final equipment with the most modern facilities for the accommodation of the largest type of ocean carriers, with all the economical advantages for handling cargoes which the meeting together of railroad car and ship on the mainland frontage of the bay afford. These facts mean, of course, that Oakland is sure to secure a liberal share of the commerce which these large domestic and foreign ocean carriers will bring with the opening of the canal, provided that the equipment for the rapid handling of cargoes from ship to car or warehouse or vice versa is suited to their wants. In the matter of equipment quite as much depends upon the attractions of our docks as on the character of the latter and the depth of water for the larger ocean steamships to moor alongside, to assure their patronage.

It is a good sign when the party in control seeks to evade responsibility for the freakishness of the Legislature. It is a proof that an indignant public opinion is making itself felt. Yet it is idle for the Progressives to deny their responsibility. They control both houses by a large majority, and no bill can get through without their sanction. They can pass or defeat anything they choose, hence they are responsible for everything the Legislature does. It is only by their permission that freak bills or bills bearing the imprint of private interest are allowed to obstruct useful and constructive legislation. The attempt to cast the blame on the minority is futile—not because the minority is blameless, but because it would be impotent but for the aid and countenance given by the majority.

CITY MAN ON FARM

Many a city man has gone back to the land only to meet with disheartening failure, and it is not always easy to point to the direct causes. Lack of capital, poor judgment, general incompetence and laziness may be at the bottom of it, or the conditions may be adverse. Consequently, the advice to the city man to go back to the farm should be given with reservations. He must be a man ready to adapt himself to an entirely new line of business and to work hard at it, for he is handicapped by lack of experience and is in competition with men who have devoted their lives to a study of agricultural problems, many of them having been born amid farm conditions. Another cause of failure is the lack of foresight in changing from city conditions to those of the country, where the lack of social advantages may cause unhappiness and even hardship, especially to the wife. Such unhappiness may bring about financial failure as well. In spite of all these things, there is no vital reason why a city man should

THE MEETINGS

MISS NADINE DE OJEDA, A BEAUTIFUL SAN FRANCISCO GIRL, WHO IS VISITING IN PASADENA FOR THE EARLY SEASON.

APRIL and early May will see the closing days of one of the most notable social seasons we have had in many years. On all sides large homes are being closed and country places opened for the summer. One of the homes which will be closed in May will be "Wildwood," the beautiful home at Piedmont of Mrs. Frank C. Havens.

The Havens will, as usual, go to Sag Harbor for the summer, and "Wildwood" will be closed, and, as usual, Mrs. Havens will be greatly missed by the large circle of friends who love and admire her, and to whom her home has come to mean much as an expression of unbounded hospitality and of loving, loyal friendships.

Not to have been a guest of Mrs. Havens at one of her Sunday afternoons means to have missed much in a social way this season. The Sunday "at homes" have been most informal, very delightful, and very original. They have expressed great neighborliness, and friends have dropped in for an informal visit in a most beautiful home, and they have been made welcome in a fashion which has made the visit a joy to remember. Old friends have been made welcome, in the cordial fashion which has never known any change, and all through the season Mrs. Havens has entertained many distinguished guests at "Wildwood." Her beautiful home is rapidly becoming historic and it has been written about not only in New York, but in London. Mrs. Havens is very generous in sharing her home, and so it has happened that many notable people have been her guests there this season. No home around the bay has entertained more guests really worth while during the past winter.

Among recent guests whom Mrs. Havens has entertained at "Wildwood" were Mrs. Clara Butt, the wonderful singer, and her distinguished husband, who comes of the English aristocracy. Clara Butt is perhaps the finest concert singer in the world, with a superb voice. She is very cultured, very beautiful and very charming, and to meet her informally is a rare pleasure. The family is traveling together and a maid and tutor for the boys are included in the party. The family home in London is the center of much social life, and one meets there artists as well as members of England's exclusive aristocracy.

Mrs. Clara Butt was Mrs. Frank C. Havens' guest at an informal tea last week, given in her honor. Mrs. Havens attended the concert in the afternoon and later brought Mrs. Butt to "Wildwood," where there was an informal gathering of friends, many of the latter being people well known in the world of art. There was not time for a formal tea, so only those who could be found by means of the telephone were present. There was a most delightful hour, and the wonderful singer greatly enjoyed the hour she spent with her hostess and with her new California friends.

Among the guests were Miss Emma Thursby and her sister, who have been the center of things in the world of music in Greater New York. They certainly know all the artists worth while and are greatly beloved by them. It has meant much to Oakland in the past weeks that Miss Thursby and her sister have spent the time here. Mrs. Havens will be "at home" for only two more Sunday afternoons, as it takes some time to close "Wildwood" for the summer, for the months that the Havens will be away. The Sunday "at homes" have been a rare treat—so informal, so different from the ordinary social round. It gives men an opportunity to meet others in the cordial, friendly fashion from which business and the many cares of the business world are eliminated. There ought to be times in men's lives

"When the cares that infest the day,
Fold up their tents like the Arabs,
And as silently steal away."

We ought to be grateful to the hostess who tries to bring us that atmosphere, and, so, many have welcomed the hours at Wildwood and have felt grateful to Mrs. Havens for so brilliantly leading the way.

YOUNG MATRONS HOSTESSES AT DANCE.

These are the days when one is happy and gay—when springtime brings all to a sort of young enthusiasm. There never was an era in the EXPOSITION FUND BENEFIT DANCE.

And apropos of dancing, it might be well to mention here that San Francisco calls upon us all to help her, and has sent to our side of the bay the following appeal:

On the afternoon of the 12th of April there will be a matinee in the ballroom of the St. Francis Hotel under the auspices of the Daughters of the American Revolution, for the purpose of creating a 1915 exposition fund in order to maintain a headquarters, or, a home, for the state organization, to be located in San Francisco.

California has not had a state headquarters for her patriotic societies and it's necessary that she should have before the thousands of delegates arrive here from the East. The above program of dances has been arranged by Miss Mary Shaffer, also, number of the best soloists in of these invitations remain unanswered! You feel very complimented, of course, when your bridge invitations arrived, and you feel quite like an oldtime family friend when the wedding invitations came. But how about your replies? For lo, a wall goes up from the many hostesses over the unpardonable negligence in answering these same invitations. How is the hostess to know you have received them? How is she to plan for the party when she does not know how many guests will arrive? The young men are specially negligent in this regard, and one hopes that a "word to the wise" may be sufficient.

In these closing days of the season it is the duty of all of us to take out our calendars and accept or regret promptly, for the various social functions to which people are good enough to ask us. If they are good enough to send a kind thought our way, to offer us a compliment, we might at least be well bred enough to express our thanks in a sweet and gracious manner.

PARISIAN COLONY IN FINE FAVOR.

One hears that the Americans in Paris are having a most interesting time this season, and they are all great favorites with Madame Poincaré, the beautiful and popular wife of the President of France. Among the leaders in the Parisian smart set is the Princess Poniatowski, who was formerly Miss Beth Sperry. She is a very cultured woman and before her marriage she spent many months in Paris studying art. The princess has with her as her guests her sister, Mrs. William H. Crocker, and her niece, Miss Ethel Crocker. She will spend the summer, as usual, in her beautiful villa at Cannes.

Miss Enid Gregg is of San Francisco's smart set and no affair of note for charity, across the bay, is complete without her. She is a wonderful dancer and could achieve fame and fortune at any time on the stage. Miss Fernanda Pratt, the talented daughter of Mrs. Ernest Simpson, has a superb voice, finely trained, and she is so young and attractive, and she sings so beautifully that it is a rare pleasure to hear her. So this latest plan for the exposition bids fair to be most successful in many ways.

HUSH FAMILY IN DEEP SORROW.

All the many friends of the Hush family are very grieved indeed over the sorrow that has come to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bentley (Florence Hush) in the loss of their little son.

There was much rejoicing over the advent of the little stranger, but the baby only lived four days, and his mother is quite inconsolable. And in this case it is best not to send the usual notes of sympathy.

Mrs. Tom Magee and Mrs. Will Magee are with their sister, Mrs. Bentley, and Mrs. Valentine Hush is still in Burlington, with her daughter, Mrs. Wells (Jean Hush).

SOCIAL CALENDAR IS VERY FULL.

There has never been a springtime when social dates on the calendar were of so great interest. For one reason, Lent came so early this year that it did not put an end to the season's festivities. They were only modified in the Lenten season, ceasing only for Holy Week. And many hostesses have delayed their entertainments until the late spring, paying up all their social obligations thereby.

Among the many dates on the calendar are the following, scheduling most interesting social dates:

Monday, April 11—Women's Press Club afternoon in San Francisco.

Tuesday evening, April 15—Reception and dance of the Alameda County Medical Society; Hotel Oakland.

Wednesday, April 16—Mrs. T. W. Harris' "at home." There will be a dramatic reading, and she will entertain her friends in her home on Ferry street.

Wednesday, April 16—Miss Else Schilling hostess at bridge, entertaining her guests in her Lakeside home.

Friday, April 18—Mrs. A. Schilling hostess at a four-o'clock tea, recollecting her friends in her Lakeside home.

Friday, April 18—Mrs. Millard J. Laymance hostess, entertaining a group of friends at bridge, in honor of Mrs. J. T. Hamilton and Mrs. N. S. Hunt.

Tuesday, April 22—Wedding of Miss Madeline Clay and Mr. Warren Harrold, at the bride's home, "Level Lea."

Wednesday, April 23—Mrs. David Edward Easterbrook hostess at a large "at home" to be given at the Hotel Oakland.

Tuesday, April 29—Mrs. Ghirardelli hostess at a large bridge party at her home on Oakland avenue, for the benefit of the Ladies' Relief Society.

Wednesday, April 30—Mrs. Frederick Page Cutting hostess at a large bridge party at the Hotel Oakland.

Other cards are to be sent out, announcing events of importance, and there are many club dates to add to the unusual interest of our April days.

NOW, WHAT ABOUT YOUR INVITATIONS?

WEDDING NEWS OF THE WEEK

and when you consider the systems in other towns, it is almost appalling. The worst of it is, so few persons when playing in a strange circle have either the social tact, or the sound enough judgment, to abandon their pet hobbies and play the local conventions."

Very few good players now make "no trump" hands. Under the new count that is not necessary. And, after all, what is the use of "declarations." If two players use them, the other two players use them also, and you have a draw game. One of the most expert bridge players in the country sends out a paragraph which is so full of wisdom that it ought to settle the question of conventional calls:

"I thought the new count was made with the object of doing away with 'calls.' If 'every suit is a fighting suit,' as we claim (and as it certainly is) why not bid whichever of these fighting suits we hold? If we open with 'one-bids' (as I think we should) our partners can make warning over-calls when our bids do not suit them. If every player follows this rule, if he bids low enough to leave room for warnings, and if he knows his rules for raisers, I cannot see the necessity for any further conventions of bid."

The only fair way to play "auction" is to bid your hand for what it is worth, and to finesse and play as strong a game as you can. A good player is never satisfied with making one or two odd. To make the most possible out of a poor hand is to be a good auction bridge player.

But one hopes that our Oakland players will not adopt to any great extent the conventional calls, which can make of "auction" so great a burden.

One hears that some of the best auction players in the state are in our city, and that is because years ago our leading women organized bridge clubs, such as the Wheelock and the Cosmos. And they learned bridge systematically in the old days, so they had something to build upon when the days of auction dawned. So in our clubs are to be found some exceedingly interesting players, and among they are:

Mrs. E. B. Bock, Mrs. T. C. Coogan, Mrs. Clarence Crowell, Mrs. William Milwain, Mrs. Minor Goodall, Mrs. Harry Knowles, Mrs. Sam Bell Wakefield, Mrs. Frederick Cutting, Mrs. William H. Morrison, Mrs. Lee Cole Burnham, Mrs. Frank Watson, Mrs. Herbert Lee, Miss Emma Farrer, the Misses Wilcox, Mrs. William Creed, Miss Janet Haight, Mrs. Edward Walsh, Mrs. Thomas Olney, Mrs. William Thornton White, Mrs. Frank L. Brown, Mrs. Wickham Havens, Mrs. Harry East Miller, Mrs. Allender, Mrs. George De Golla, Mrs. Jessie Mehan, Miss Pauline Kelly, Mrs. William High, Mrs. George Gross, Mrs. George Hammer, Mrs. J. T. Burnham, Mrs. Lillian Everts, Mrs. Charles D. Bates, Mrs. William Henshaw, Mrs. N. A. Acker, Mrs. T. W. Harris, Mrs. J. P. Neville, Mrs. E. B. Braden, Mrs. Edward Engs, Mrs. Henry Rosenfeld, Miss Nicholson, Mrs. A. A. Long, Mrs. George Wheaton, Mrs. Maller Searles, Miss Bessie Palmer.

SUMMER TRAVELS HAVE COMMENCED.

Movements of one's friends are of special interest in these spring days, for already many travelers have departed, the vacation days of the year having already begun.

Mrs. George McNear has joined her daughter, Elizabeth McNear, in London, and they are planning an ideal summer trip. It will be a year at least before they will return to California, as Miss McNear thoroughly enjoys life abroad.

Mr. and Mrs. Prentiss Cobb Hale have enjoyed delightful spring days in Germany, where they planned motor trips of unusual interest. They will spend the month of May in Paris.

Mrs. George McNear, Jr., and Mrs. Ernestine McNear are spending the spring in Italy, and visiting the many cities there of historic interest. They will probably spend the greater part of the summer abroad.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lacey Brayton, who are at the Claremont Country Club, are planning to leave the latter part of this month for Tahiti. They will be away for some weeks, and they have not yet decided where their permanent home will be on their return.

Mr. and Mrs. Egbert Stone and their daughters, the Misses Harriet, Marian and Helen Stone, are planning to establish their cabin again this season on the Russian river. Miss Harriet Stone recently returned from Hawaii, where she was the guest of Miss Helen Hinckley.

In our own city the number of electric cars is constantly increasing, and many women of the smart set are very expert in driving them. Center, is planning to spend summer among those who can drive a large vacation days in the Yosemite valley.

PARIS WOMEN DRIVE OWN CARS.

In Paris many women of the smart set have learned to drive their own motor cars, and they consider themselves much safer than with a careless chauffeur. Of course, they do not venture in the traffic in the heart of the city, but one finds them managing amazingly well in other parts.

The season has practically begun in Paris. The Avenue des Acacias in the Bois de Boulogne is now thronged every morning with fashionable women.

A new regulation restricts the avenue to the use of horse-drawn vehicles only during the hours between 11 and 1, but as a matter of fact very few equipages are seen in the morning, while the entrance to the avenue is blocked by serried rows of smart motor cars. This suggests that the carriage and pair have finally been ousted from society's favor by the automobile.

It is now the custom for smart women to drive their cars as far as the entrance to the famous avenue and then alight and stroll about, chatting with acquaintances, afterward returning to the car to drive home for luncheon.

Mr. and Mrs. Egbert Stone and their daughters, the Misses Harriet, Marian and Helen Stone, are planning to establish their cabin again this season on the Russian river. Miss Harriet Stone recently returned from Hawaii, where she was the guest of Miss Helen Hinckley.

One of the important teas of the week across the bay was given by Mrs. Clara Darling, who has been a tenorino, Mrs. Henry Wetherbee, Mrs. Richard Ivers, Mrs. W. G. Irwin, Mrs. Adam Grant, Countess del Caso, Mrs. Mark Evans, Mrs. F. G. Bunn, Mrs. Walter Starr.

PICTURES IN THE MEDDLER.

One of the handsome belles who are shown in the Meddler today is Miss Grace Headley, the charming New York girl who spent the winter season on the coast as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Martin William Kales, her aunt and uncle. Miss Headley came out to be a bridesmaid at the wedding of her cousin, Miss Rose Kales, and James Brendan Brady of San Francisco.

Miss Nadine de Ojeda, who is spending the winter in Pasadena, accompanied by her mother and father, has been pronounced one of the most beautiful girls among the winter visitors in the southern city.

Mr. and Mrs. William High Jr. have returned from their honeymoon trip and are domiciled in San Francisco. Their romantic marriage was one of the surprises of the early season. The bride was Miss Georgia Gorley.

Miss Margaret Boveraux is one of the charming girls of the younger set who takes part in society affairs during the season. She is an attractive maid who is popular among the younger folk.

MISS MADELINE CLAY IS GUEST OF HONOR.

Many interesting social affairs center about the bright young bride-elect, Miss Madeline Clay, whose wedding to Warren Harrold is set for April 22. The two most enjoyable dinners given in her honor were arranged by Miss Pussy Creed and Miss Josephine Johnson.

Miss Creed's dinner dance at the Claremont Hotel was chaperoned by her mother, Mrs. William H. Creed, and her guests were the bride and groom-elect and the members of their wedding party. Mrs. Harden Crawford (Annie Clay) has arrived from New York and is at Levee Leea. With her are four charming children, some of whom are visiting their grandmother, Mrs. C. C. Clay, for the first time. Little Julia Crawford, a most attractive child, is to be in her

MRS. LUCY BARKER LUNCHEON HOSTESS.

Mrs. Lucy Barker was the hostess on Thursday at a very elaborate luncheon, given at her attractive home in Elmhurst. The table was a very exquisite study in lilacs and in white iris, and fourteen guests enjoyed the hospitality of a very cordial hostess. The guests came from Oakland, Fruitvale and from Melrose and Elmhurst, and the luncheon was a successful and most delightful affair.

But Oakland physicians have arranged their plans so that it will not be all hard work, and the social side of affairs has received the proper amount of attention. The most important affair will be the large reception and dance at the Hotel Oakland, and it will represent a very brilliant gathering.

Mrs. O. D. Hamlin, the wife of one of Oakland's most successful physicians, will give a large "at home" for the women who are coming with their husbands to the convention.

The Hamlins have a very handsome home on Lenox avenue, which will make a fine environment for an elaborate reception, and Mrs. Hamlin will be aided in entertaining her guests by a large receiving party, making the "at home" one of the brilliant affairs of the late season.

Mrs. Jeffries is the guest of Mr. Dodge at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ward J. Laymance, in Piedmont, and will spend about a fortnight in the bay cities.

FINAL DANCE.

The final dance of the Berkeley Cotillion took place last night at Town and Gown clubhouse, and was a fancy dress affair, which proved one of the most delightful of the season. The costumes were varied and original in addition to the old favorites, which are always charming at these jolly affairs. Several dinner parties preceded the dance, and a number of the girls crossed the bay to attend. The patronesses of the Berkeley Cotillion are Mrs. Leonard Bacon, Mr. William James Munro, Mrs. Channing Wells, Mrs. William Fitzhugh and Mrs. Irving Stringham. Among the belles and beaux who enjoy the gayeties of the Cotillion were: Miss Edith Clapp, Miss Mary Gaylor, Miss Cora Williams, Miss Ethel Wrangelmeyer, Miss Mildred Kellogg, Miss Mary Fitzhugh, Miss Esther Dowd, Miss Mary Stillman, Miss Gladys Dowd, Miss Dorothy Hinckley, Miss Frances Sherman, Miss Juliet Perrin, Miss Kathryn Soutfield, Miss Virginia De Fremery, Ray Ballew, Warren Terry, Randolph Munro, Gordon Lansing, Lloyd Tevis, Roland Stringham, Archibald Evans, John Falache, Adolph De Fremery, Richard Lyman, Al Wilder, Gilbert Nalra, Raymond Bishop, John Miller, Kenneth Perkins, Howard Fletcher, Mr. and Mrs. Wickham Havens, Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. BRIDGE YESTERDAY.

One of the delightful affairs of yesterday was the bridge party offered to about two score of her friends by Mrs. Challen Parker at her attractive residence on Walsworth avenue. The home was made gay with quantities of spring blossoms, and the hostess was assisted in welcoming her guests by her mother, Mrs. William Clegg, and his sister, Miss Jean Clegg. Mrs. Clegg and Miss Clegg are now domiciled in San Francisco, but are spending a week on this side of the bay as the guests of Mrs. Seales.

FAMILY DINNER AT CLUB.

The family dinner to be given at the Claremont Country Club next Saturday evening will be an elaborate affair, with about 400 in attendance, and smart set folk of the east bay cities will be there on that evening for the "family dinner" of club members. There will be entertainment during the dinner and a beautifully appointed ball later, with music for the dancing to be furnished by a band. It is the first dinner of the kind to be given by the club, and the members are looking forward to it with great pleasure. S. O. Johnson is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements. Among the prominent society folk who are members of the Country Club are Mr. and Mrs. William Thornton White, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clegg, Mr. and Mrs. William Griffith Henshaw, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Chickering, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parcells, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lacey Brayton, Mr. and Mrs. John Fynn Neville, Mr. and Mrs. Challen Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Krus, Mr. and Mrs. William Pierce Johnson, Sam Bell McKeon, Mr. and Mrs. Wickham Havens, Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. THREE ARE INDICTED IN WHITE-SLAVERY CASE

WOMEN TO SUPPORT
MISS ANNIE BROWNNeed of Experience and Understanding Displayed by Popular Candidate for School Board

The realization that the women of the city should have representation upon the Board of Education has turned a large number of voters to Miss Annie Florence Brown as the only woman candidate that is likely to qualify at the primary election Tuesday. Several other women are candidates for election, but it is generally conceded in political circles that Miss Brown is the only woman candidate who has a good chance of election.

Great interest is being taken in the election by the women voters, and it is anticipated that a heavier vote will be polled by the women in proportion to the number of votes cast by the men than at any previous election. Considerable of this interest is centered about the campaign being made by Miss Brown for reelection, and it is assured that she will gain one of the highest votes of any of the candidates either for the City Council or the Board of Education.

SPLendid QUALIFICATION.

The interest being taken in Miss Brown's campaign is based both upon her splendid qualifications for the position and the superb record she made as school director during the past two years, but also on the fact that many voters, both men and women, feel that the influence of a woman upon the board is for the best interests of the schools and the school children. They recognize the fact that Miss Brown is the leading woman candidate and the only one who has a chance, and they wish to make sure of the presence of a woman member on the board.

The public schools form one of the most important factors in the life of the community. The development of public education in the United States, which has undergone gradual change of late years, to bring the schools into closer touch with the needs of the people, is still under way, and it is recognized that in the work of bringing manual training, domestic science and other practical courses into the curricula of the schools, pioneer work is being done.

NEED OF EXPERIENCE.

Much of this work is yet in the experimental stage, and it is necessary that no mistakes shall be made in pioneering with the lives and training of children who are to make the citizens of tomorrow. The broadest sympathy and understanding of the needs of the children, together with a practical knowledge of the possibilities of service which can be obtained from teachers trained in present-day universities and normal schools are essential in the handling

JAPAN FRAMES
ITS FORMAL
PROTESTAmbassador Viscount Chinda
Instructed to Make Representations.Secretary Bryan Non-committal; Says Time Enough for Protesting.

TOKIO, April 12.—Viscount Chinda, Japanese Ambassador to the United States, was instructed today by the foreign office to make formal representations at Washington in regard to the anti-Japanese legislation of the state of California.

Irritation over the California land legislation is increasing throughout the country. All the political parties have sent deputations to the premier and to the foreign minister asking them to adopt measures to preserve Japanese treaty rights in America.

The constitutional party has proposed an anti-California boycott and the chambers of commerce here have telegraphed to some bodies in San Francisco and Los Angeles and elsewhere asserting that the result of the legislation will be disastrous for trade between the United States and Japan.

BRYAN NON-COMMITAL.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—Secretary Bryan was non-committal when told of the Japanese government's instructions to Ambassador Chinda, as recorded in the news dispatches, to make formal representations in regard to the California land legislation construed as anti-Japanese. He expressed only the sentiment that it would be time to consider formal representations after the laws in question had been enacted by the California legislature and were under consideration by the government. Representative Raker told President Wilson that he had a telegram from Senator Sanford of California containing assurances that the alien land bill when finally passed would not have provisions to conflict with any treaty obligations between the United States and Japan.

Armed with the spirit of progress and constant devotion to a cause, as well as a clear perception of the right course to pursue in attaining the ends desired, Miss Brown entered upon her work. She found men who did not sympathize in all matters with her viewpoint, men who were high officials of the Board of Education and who had been on the board for a score of years and who were wedded to old traditions and decrepit customs.

Miss Brown was impatient with the opposition she found when the reforms she proposed did not meet with favor. But she realized that single-handed she could do naught, and by a wise reserve she started to work to educate others to her way of thinking.

EXQUISITE TACT.

An exquisite tact in her dealings with members of the board and with officials of the department helped her to obtain concrete realization of some of the ideals with which she entered upon her work. From the organization of the board two years ago, for the months remaining she carried on an unrelenting campaign for reforms and betterments in the schools. Her work has been fertile of results and the praise she has received has been no more than her just desert.

The voters owe it to the schools and to the children to re-elect Miss Brown. It is a practical certainty that this obligation will be observed by the women voters and by a large percentage of the men.

BREAK IN RIVER
LEVEE REPORTED

MEMPHIS, April 12.—A break in the old Mississippi levee at Lake Jefferson, Ark., 10 miles below Rosedale, occurred early today, according to telephone reports. No loss of life was reported in the first message.

CONDITIONS IMPROVED.

CAIRO, Ill., April 12.—River conditions here continue to improve. Permission has been granted saloons, moving picture shows and all business houses to reopen at noon today.

COMPLAINS AGAINST
STEERAGE CONDITIONS

SAN FRANCISCO, April 12.—Complaint was lodged today with Collector of the Port Frederick Stratton against the Pacific Mail Steamship Company's steamer San Juan. A protest against conditions on board the vessel is filed by Thomas A. Shelley, a clerk in the engineering department of the United States government. Shelley took passage in the steerage from Panama to this port expecting the accommodations would be similar to those in vogue on the Atlantic liners. He declares that the food was not up to standard and the bunks should be maintained and that the crew were allowed to mix with steerage passengers and to spend a great deal of their time in quarters in that section of the boat. The complaint was turned over to Deputy Surveyor Stephen for investigation.

Hunger-Striking Suffragette Is Released From Jail in Serious Condition.

To Be Free Only Until She Regains Her Strength; Must Report.

LONDON, April 12.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the suffragette leader, was released from Holloway jail this afternoon after being on a "hunger strike" since she was sentenced, nine days ago to three years of penal servitude.

Mrs. Pankhurst was released on probation under the terms of which she must report at frequent intervals to the police. In case she commits any misdemeanor she is liable to immediate arrest without a warrant and must then serve out her full term of conviction.

The intention of the authorities is to allow her to be free only until she regains her strength.

CONDITION SERIOUS.

The condition of the suffragette leader was described by her friends this morning as very grave. She was removed at once to a sanitarium.

The Women's Social and Political Union, the organization of the militant suffragettes, has telegraphed in advance of the intended release of Mrs. Pankhurst and there was no demonstration when she left Holloway jail.

Phyllis Brady and Millicent Dean, two girls who were arrested on April 4th, as "suffragette fire brands," were sentenced to six weeks' imprisonment each at the police court court today. Miss Brady has been on "hunger strike" since she was arrested and appeared in court today in an exhausted condition.

Latest French Fighting Weapon Fires Two Shells a Minute.

NACO, Ariz., April 12.—Aside from his daring and brilliant fighting for the last four days, two secrets of General Pedro Ojeda's success in defending Naco, Sonora, were made known today. One was the possession of artillery of the latest French pattern, throwing two explosive shells a minute. The other reason was that an Englishman, named John Dean, during the daring sallies of the Mexican soldiers, has been foremost. His presence has been kept a secret, for "filibusters" are in dispute in the present Mexican revolution.

Dean, by his expert marksmanship, was said to have been responsible for the deaths of the hard fighters suffered by his side.

The action, decided today, was brought by Claus A. Spreckels and Rudolph Spreckels against John D. and Adolph A. Spreckels Jr. The last two named set up the claim that the money given to the other two sons was considerably in excess of what the aged sugar king had a right to part with, because his wife was entitled to one-half of the community property.

The $18,000,000 asked for is the excess over what it is claimed Claus Spreckels had a right to give away and the compound interest on the sum for a number of years.

ATTEMPT MADE TO
BLOW TWO SAFES

SAN FRANCISCO, April 12.—Safe-crackers who made their way into the Bottlers' Protective Association, 525 Gough street, at an early hour this morning blew open one of the two safes with nitro-glycerine. That they did not succeed in obtaining a large sum of money was due solely to the fact that the second charge did not explode. The robbers carefully arranged their explosive with a fuse leading to each safe. They then applied a match and, apparently, when the second box was not blown open, they feared to venture into the premises again. The police found the outer door of one safe open and the fuse and nitro-glycerine lying near.

HELD FOR MURDER.

T. Tominaga, a Japanese gambler, was held to answer before Judge George Samuels after a lengthy preliminary examination on a charge of murder for killing S. Toshida, president elect of the Japanese-American League of Oakland. Toshida was buried two weeks ago after a meeting of the league, which Toshida had denounced Tominaga as a gambler and gunman.

AIM IS TO KEEP I. W. W. MOVING

Citizens' Protective Organization of Grand Junction Do Not Welcome Visitors.

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo., April 12.—The Citizens' Protective Organization is in receipt of advices from Salt Lake City that a band of 150 Industrial Workers of the World planned to leave the Utah capital tonight and expected to reach this city within the next two days. Leaders of the citizens' organization express a purpose to keep the band from Salt Lake City moving and not to allow them to stop here.

Last night the 100 Industrial Workers whose attempts at street speaking precipitated yesterday's clash quietly left the city singly and in small bands, supposedly for Denver.

Citizens' leaders stated today that the talked-of recall movement against Mayor Todd, growing out of his policy of granting the Industrial Workers the liberty of street speaking, probably would not be pressed, as his term of office expires in the fall.

Refused to "Squeal" on Higher Police Officers Accused of Graft.

NEW YORK, April 12.—John J. Hartigan, the policeman who would not "squeal" went today to Sing Sing to serve three years for refusing himself to shield higher police officers, accused of graft. Hartigan is the first member of the police force punished in connection with the crusade against levying tribute on protected vice.

His trial, his sentence and finally his trip to prison, were delayed in the hope that he would seek to lighten his punishment by a confession. The district attorney declares that the police "system" paid Hartigan $25,000 for his silence.

RICHMOND, April 12.—The city council held a special meeting last night to take up the matter of widening and improving three important streets and to listen to the argument of a large delegation of west side citizens who protested that the Peoples Water Company was laying four-inch water mains in the hill sections and that these were too small to afford fire protection.

A resolution was passed by the council instructing City Attorney Hall and City Engineer Chapman and Engineer Haveland to get together and arrange a permanent ordinance covering the water mains matter as proposed by the petitioners.

The matter of widening and paving Twenty-third street for three miles from San Pablo on the north to the bay on the south and improving it was taken up; also the widening and improving of Tenth street, the Oakland branch of the Santa Fe railroad to Proctor avenue.

Committees were named for the proceedings to act in conjunction with the city attorney and engineer, as follows:

H. A. Johnson, D. W. McLaughlin, J. F. Candler, J. F. Brooks, J. O. Ford, J. B. Piquet, H. H. Turley, Levi Bowell and J. R. Nystrom.

THOUSANDS SEE WOOD REOPENING

The Magnificent San Francisco Store Hailed by Public and Officials.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 12.—The mar- tial strains of a national air played by the San Francisco Municipal band, accom- panied by the tread of thousands of feet as the doors of S. K. Wood & Company's new department palace was thrown open at 8 o'clock last night, marked an impor- tant incident in San Francisco's com- mercial life. During the three hours of merriment that followed, the members of the firm and the employees played host as in correct a fashion as though the re- ception they gave to the people of the bay cities had been tendered to a group of personal friends in some Pacific-ave- nue palace.

The establishment was resplendent with beautiful decorations, the walls and doors were adorned with flags and a myriad of pretty lights glowed through soft shades, from the windows and finally restored order. When they were bundled into automobiles and taken downtown.

From the tuxedo men and women sightseers out "slumming" were gathered and brought before the com- mission. One woman, in hysterical fear of disgrace, tried to jump from a window when the invaders with their subpens reached a restaurant in the vice district. Another fell on her knees and wept. A man jammed a roll of bills into the hands of an officer. "Take these for God's sake," he cried, "and let my party go." You don't know what this means."

PANIC WAS QUIETED.

Officers kept the rushing mob, some weeping, some laughing hysterically, from the doors and finally restored order. When they were bundled into automobiles and taken downtown.

While the cabaret was still in blast investigators of the vice commission brought performers, managers and guests to the Hotel La Salle for interroga- tion at a session which lasted until after 2 o'clock this morning.

From some of them the senators drew reluctant admission that a few of the songs and dances "might be" suggestive and "perhaps" had a bad effect upon the diners. A girl singer, crying as she testified, asserted she never would sing "In My Harem," a song Lieutenant Governor O'Hara was particularly inquisitive about. The manager of a well-known restaurant said the restaurant business had degenerated into a vaudeville show and he didn't know when it would stop.

GIALS TOOK DRINKS.

"After investigators and members of a 'slumming' party said they had heard an improper song in a place on Twenty-first street, the commission voted to recommend to Mayor Har- rison that the cafe's license be revoked and that the attention of the state's attorney be called to the testimony of the manager who said nothing in decent went on. Senator Beall said he saw girls not more than 15 or 16 years old imbibing mixed drinks in the cafe and some of them were more or less intoxicated.

Mrs. Maude Joseph described the singing and dances at a downtown restaurant. She said in one dance the performer "might just as well have no skirts at all." She stated that a girl did an Oriental dance wearing pink tights and a sort of a skirt of black chiffon." She said she thought that dance was suggestive, from the remarks made by male diners at nearby tables. She said a couple did a hand dance, a combination between the "Tango" and the "Apache."

"Was it art or suggestion?" asked Lieutenant Governor O'Hara. "There was no art in it."

She said such a dance might not have any effect upon young women, but "she wouldn't want to risk it." The performers then led a free-for-all dance on a space made by clearing away tables, she said.

"There was one girl about 19 who danced a peculiar kind of a dance for a public exhibition," she said. "Her partner held her at arm's length and at intervals would suddenly embrace her. No, there wasn't any art in it."

The professionals who led this free-for-all dance said they had tried to eliminate anything which might appear sensual in their act, but admitted they might not have been entirely successful.

"Don't you think that where you see art others might see vice?" asked Mr. O'Hara.

"I guess it appears differently, but I don't see anything obscene about it."

BUSINESS HAS DEGENERATED.

O. P. Simpson, manager of another downtown restaurant, asserted the business had degenerated into a show business, but that he had to put up a first-class cabaret to get the trade. He was of the opinion that some popular songs have gone too far and said he didn't allow "In My Harem" to be sung in his restaurant. He said guests did the "bear" dance in the aisles between the tables, but that they never got "raw."

An entertainer in this restaurant said there was nothing out of the way in the song "All Night Long."

"It's all in the way you sing it," she stated. "Some people are so weak minded they will take up anything."

At 2 o'clock this morning the hearing adjourned until 10 o'clock, when proprietors of several disorderly houses will testify.

CALLED HIM SISY, ALLEGES HUSBAND

Geo. Hubbard Wants Divorce Because His Wife Twitted Him Occasionally.

Bertha G. Hubbard told her husband that she was tired of married life and that she was going to go back on the stage as soon as she got a chance, according to the divorce complaint of George S. Hubbard filed today. Plaintiff also alleged that his better-half had twitted him on one occasion, when he left the house to go to the home of his mother, because his wife had a woman friend for a bedfellow. "You are a sly," he declares in the complaint.

Mary Hogan, 26, East Seventeenth, had a propensity for throwing things at her husband, according to William E. Hogan, who has sued her for a divorce. A clock, hair brushes, clothes brushes and statuary were among the articles he was forced to dodge, he said.

Jules A. Cummings had sued Alton B. Cummings, alter ego of his dead son, and their three children, in 1908.

On the grounds of desertion, Albert J. Trathen has sued Gertrude J. Trathen. The couple were married in Oakland in 1899 and lived together until March 1912.

Mrs. Helen Bassenberg went out for a walk, expending and spending for three months, according to John S. Schenck, who wants a divorce from his wife.

A divorce is also sought by Mrs. Antonia Schenck from rank J. Schenck on the grounds that he had taken up with other women.

VICE COMMISSION RAIDS CABARETS

Fashionable State's and Rector's Restaurants' Guests and Managers Quizzed.

CHICAGO, April 12.—Agents of the Illinois vice commission late last night and early today brought consternation to the fashionable guests of two down- town restaurants—Rector's and the State's—against whose reputations there rested no question except the nature of their cabaret entertainment.

From these cafes only the managers and members of the cabaret shows were subpoenaed. They were quizzed as to the suggestive songs which are alleged features of cabarets.

From the tuxedo men and women sightseers out "slumming" were gathered and brought before the commission. One woman, in hysterical fear of disgrace, tried to jump from a window when the invaders with their subpens reached a restaurant in the vice district. Another fell on her knees and wept. HOST OF FRIENDS TO HONOR MORGAN

Son Carries Out Decedant's
Plan to Aid Academy at Rome.

NEW YORK, April 12.—Almost buried in roses and twining ivy, the triple coffin that contains the body of J. P. Morgan lies in the west wing of the marble library which holds his books and many of his art treasures. There it will repose until 1500 of his friends pay final tribute to his memory at the funeral services Monday in St. George's church. Only members of the family and a few intimate friends were admitted to the library.

ACADEMY AIDED.

The interest which the late J. P. Morgan took in the American Academy at Rome, where he hoped American artists would learn to excel in artistic fields, appears to have been taken up by his son, J. P. Morgan Jr. According to a statement from his son, Mr. Morgan has cableled to the academy authorities to draw upon him for the necessary fund to purchase a cottage on Janulum Hill which has interfered with the building operations of the academy. The senior Mr. Morgan approved of the purchase recently, but before any definite negotiations had been concluded he was taken ill and the plan was not further discussed. Fears had been expressed at the academy that the son would not be able to meet his financial obligations.

ORPHEUM'S 'PLUM PUDDING WEEK' ON

Bunches of Head Liners Make the Offering a Veritable
"Pudding."

When you see the words, "Plum Pudding Week" at the Orpheum, staring at you from the dead walls of the town these days, don't imagine that the Orpheum is going into the cafe business. By one of those unavoidable booking arrangements, the bill for next week at the Orpheum has two big headline acts, each a feature number with a big scenic investiture, and from ten to thirty people in the act, with salaries in proportion. When the booking sheet arrived there was a hurried conference at which the phrase came into being, when Manager Ebey remarked after duly admiring the rich, luscious show in advance:

"If it had a little cream and sugar spread on it, it would be good enough to eat." Why, it is a regular old-fashioned plum pudding."

Everybody present smacked lips, everybody and then the press agent let out a war whoop and cried:

"That's it. We'll call it Plum Pudding Week."

The press agent was seriously considering offering a number of suggestions to the audiences, something like this:

"Would you call Miss Marguerite Keefer a peach or a plum?"

"Would you say that Miss Estella Churchill is a bunch of plums or raisins?"

Of course there were some who were inclined to discount the sugary stuff, saying that people do not want their pudding too sweet. To this the smart one said:

"There are some rich, meaty nuts in the pudding like Charlie Seamon and Harry Green."

"If the show is too sweet, don't forget that pickle that Mason has."

People will discover next week that Horner Mason plays his role in "In and Out" in a most deplorable state of "souse," hence the "pickle." Likewise the funny act offered by Charlie Seamon and Harry Green will be recognized as excuses for the "puddle." Miss Estelle Churchill is proud of her overweight, she likes to be fat. And Miss Keefer is one of the prettiest girls on the stage.

If all the aforesaid menu of tasty things is on the bill, including the plum pudding, sweets, nuts and pickles, there is no doubt but that it will strongly appeal to vaudeville lovers who like a wide variety in their vaudeville fare.

Seats in this big barrel of good things can be had at the usual moderate prices. No speculation in plum puddings will be allowed.

CHECKS FIGURE IN JORDAN INQUIRY

Secretary of State Testifies
Mrs. Porter Was Paid by Private Funds for Work.

SACRAMENTO, April 12.—Testimony regarding checks drawn in favor of Mrs. I. P. Porter featured today's session of the state board of control with the investigating of fees paid into the office of Secretary of State Jordan. Jordan, who was on the stand the greater part of the time, testified that on at least two occasions he had drawn on the deposits under his name in his official capacity as secretary of state to the First National Bank to pay Mrs. Porter, who was for a time employed by his office, but not under salary from the First National.

Jordan had previously testified that he paid Mrs. Porter out of his personal funds. President John F. Neylan of the state board of control then offered in evidence two checks drawn in favor of Mrs. Porter on the state's account on the First National and signed by Jordan. One of the checks was for $2.50 and the other was for $2.00.

In explanation, Jordan said Mrs. Porter had done certain special work for the firm of Stone & Webster, engineers, of Boston. The firm had also been furnished with certain copies of official records. The state's and Mrs. Porter's charges were included in the one check, Jordan explained. Hence he deposited the check in the state's account and paid Mrs. Porter out of it.

While matching coins with two clever men whom he met in an Oakland park, Mr. W. Star Teitzel, he was dispensed with his pocket book. The men disappeared shortly afterward and later Star discovered that he had been robbed of the purse, containing $20. He reported the theft to the police.

I. M. Morris, 21, of the Hundred and Eighth Avenue, reported to the police that while boarding a Southern Pacific electric local at Seventh and Broadway he was robbed by pickpockets of a purse containing $10.

On April 10, 1913, Telegraph avenue, reported the theft of an auto, valued at $27.
